Discussion

What practices have you encountered that seemed strange or even inappropriate to you ?

When I am studying intermediate in my class I observed one girl's attitude which I have felt a little bit strange . In these years I have never seen such kind of attitude . She used to work confidently and she is such a genuine person . She doesn't feel shy to say that is wrong or right . She is having great sense of humour and kind person too . She always care every person in a kind manner with patience .

She used to taught me in which way we can succeed in our life and says always about how to be independent . And I also noticed that she compromises the other persons I like that the way she compromising the other persons with patience , So that we can lead our life with all happiness . By seeing this girl attitude so many people inspired in my class .
